```
If your server has the expires module enabled then the following code will # make sure the expires header for the javscript code is set to one month, this # will mean the web browser should not even bother looking for a new version on the # server if it already has copy, saving one http request and the bandwidth required.

<ifModule mod_expires.c> ExpiresActive On
    ExpiresByType application/x-javascript "access plus 1 months"
</ifModule>
```